CATHAOIRLEACH OF DONEGAL COUNTY COUNCIL - CLLR TERENCE SLOWEY

As Cathaoirleach of Donegal County Council, I am pleased to present this Donegal Tourism Strategy 2017 – 2020 which sets out a shared vision for the development of tourism in County Donegal over the next three years. The Elected Members of the Council have, and continue to acknowledge and prioritise the importance of tourism to the County and to their electoral areas demonstrating a passionate approach to striving for tourism development as a major contributor to the economy, to employment locally and to the strength of the Donegal Brand.

The key aims and objectives of the strategy reach across a range of important themes and have been agreed following consultation with a range of stakeholders. The valuable work being done by Tourism Ireland and Fáilte Ireland in developing key strategic themed products, in marketing the product abroad and in engaging locally through the key regional resource has set a very strong base within which to position local and regional initiatives.

This strategy, as a means to deliver Quality Tourism Development and the resulting enterprise, is inclusive and recognises that the involvement of all sections of the community is vital to the future development of County Donegal and to building a sustainable tourism product by raising awareness worldwide of brand ‘Donegal’.

Developing partnerships is a vital component of this Strategy, connecting with our cross-border neighbours through a joint approach to develop tourism and ensure success. The people of Donegal have the skills and determination to deliver an authentic, unique and quality visitor experience and through collaborative work between Donegal County Council, Fáilte Ireland, Donegal Tourism Ltd, Údarás na Gaeltachta, community groups, local organisations and SMEs we can deliver success.

Cllr. Terence Slowey - Cathaoirleach
1.0 FOREWORD

CHIEF EXECUTIVE, DONEGAL COUNTY COUNCIL, MR. SEAMUS NEELY

As Chief Executive of Donegal County Council, I am delighted to deliver this Donegal Tourism Strategy and wish to acknowledge the input of everyone involved in production of this most valuable working document that will continue to evolve over time.

The Tourism Strategy covers 2017 – 2020 and over the three years will be monitored and evaluated to adapt to a range of changes in the future. This Donegal County Council Tourism Strategy and Action Plan provide the context for a range of innovative tourism initiatives, marketing and development plans and EU and Government funded projects, which will seek to promote County Donegal as a world class tourism destination on the Wild Atlantic Way.

The plans set out in this strategy for the next three years will stimulate our tourism economy, create and sustain employment in Donegal. The strategy seeks to build on the work undertaken to date by Donegal County Council and Donegal Tourism and will support the implementation of Irish government and EU policy in the tourism sector.

There is an emphasis in the Tourism Strategy on harnessing all of the county’s resources in our towns, villages and rural areas such as our people, our history, heritage and culture, our breathtaking landscape, the Gaeltacht and our amazing coastline. Donegal has an abundance of natural resources and we wish to ensure that in the long term as our tourism sector grows, we also have provisions in place to protect and safeguard our natural environment and our cultural and linguistic traditions.

Donegal communities have seen many changes in the past decade including economic depression, mass emigration and unemployment. This strategy will focus on ways that tourism initiatives can revive flagging economies, increase employment all year round, reduce emigration, entice people who have emigrated to come home, provide an attractive source of income and improve living standards throughout the county. With a comprehensive strategy, delivered and implemented to a high standard, we can increase economic growth, create and sustain jobs in tourism and other sectors, improve quality of life in Donegal and encourage social inclusion.

There is no doubt that with the implementation of a strategic tourism investment plan could target funding mechanisms in the EU. With the wonderful natural resources that already exist in the county, means that Donegal could be firmly established as a primary tourist destination and starting point of the Wild Atlantic Way.

Mr. Seamus Neely - Chief Executive, Donegal County Council
2.0 INTRODUCTION

Donegal is a County steeped with a rich and diverse tourism offering. It has a reputation for delivering world-class tourism services and attracting visitors from not alone all over the island of Ireland but from many overseas destinations including the UK, USA, and mainland Europe in particular. The continued development of the tourism product throughout Donegal will enable the industry to grow further, support additional jobs, further improve visitor attractions and deliver a Donegal that is prosperous to live in, work in, invest in and visit.

Donegal has been named the 'Coolest Place on the Planet' by National Geographic Traveller as part of their 'Cool List 2017' awards. The Managing Director and Publisher of National Geographic Traveller, Mr. Matthew Jackson visited Donegal in February 2017 and presented the 'Coolest Place' Award Certificate to Donegal Tourism and the "County". Donegal has also been awarded the 'Ireland’s Hidden Gem' title by readers of the 'Irish Independent Travel' publication. Many of the businesses in Donegal continue to achieve due recognition and 'Certificate of Excellence' Awards from TripAdvisor. The County hosts 37 Discovery Points and 3 Key Signature Discovery Points on the Wild Atlantic Way including Sliabh Liag, Malin Head and Fanad Head.

Donegal County Council is committed to the continuous development of a diverse, exciting and high quality tourism product and offering. The tourism industry supports in excess of 29,000 jobs in the NW region, currently attracting a near 300,000 overseas visitors annually. In addition to this approximately 330,000 domestic visitors come to Donegal to enjoy our Blue Flag beaches, experience the cultural and heritage attractions all round the County, and to stay in our world-class accommodation.
3.0 A Strategy for the Future of Tourism

Donegal County Council developed this tourism strategy to set out a ‘clear and defined road-map for the development of tourism in Donegal’ in the near term. Donegal County Council has a clear goal of implementing this comprehensive tourism strategy over the next three years by continuing a collaborative partnership approach to delivering on the action plan. The potential benefits for the people of Donegal in developing tourism are far reaching in terms of the future of the County and the future of the next generation of Donegal people. Tourism is a key driver of sustainable economic growth, job creation and social well being.

3.1 Donegal Tourism Economy – The Opportunity

Donegal is forecast to continue to increase its share of the overall tourism sector in Ireland as a follow on to the substantial growth over the last number of years. Donegal is well positioned to benefit from this increasing growth in tourism and there is an opportunity for Donegal to work collaboratively both within the County and with our neighbouring areas in Northern Ireland, to compete for a greater share in the market.

4.0 LOCATION & CONTEXT

4.1 Strategic Location

County Donegal is a border County and is bounded on the southwest, west and north by the Atlantic Ocean and on the east by Counties Tyrone, Derry, Fermanagh and Leitrim. Donegal shares 93% of its entire land boundary with Northern Ireland and the remainder with County Leitrim in the south. Donegal has the largest land border of any County with Northern Ireland, and by definition in a post Brexit situation will hold the largest land border between Britain and the European Union.

Donegal is home to Ireland’s most northerly point at Malin Head, one of the highest sea cliffs in Europe at Slabhan Liag and a wealth of sandy beaches such as Magheraardan, Rossnowlagh, Trawbrega, White Strand, Narin, Marble Hill, Downings, Carrickfinn and Magheroarty naming just a few. Many beaches have Blue Flag status. Two major sea Loughs can be enjoyed in Donegal; Lough Swilly and Lough Foyle. It also has one of the longest coastlines of not only the Wild Atlantic Way, but also of any county on the island of Ireland. Donegal enjoys several different geographical attributes from its low lying sandy beaches to its mountainous terrain and its series of rugged peninsulas. Additionally, Donegal also boasts one of the largest collections of inhabited and uninhabited islands off its coastline.

Donegal has significant connectivity by air, through its own Donegal Regional Airport, and also through Ireland West Airport Knock, City of Derry Airport, Belfast International Airport, and Belfast City Airport, all of which can be reached within two hours.

For the domestic tourism market, Donegal, truly is a place to ‘get away from it all’.
Tourism is a vital component for the national and local economy. Revenue from overseas tourism is expected to reach €5 billion by 2025 from €3.5 billion in 2014 (Fáilte Ireland). This growing indigenous industry is already a massive contributor to employment growth and is estimated to employ some 220,000 people in the industry at present.

Fáilte Ireland is the National Tourism Development Authority. Their role is to support the tourism industry and work to sustain Ireland as a high-quality and competitive tourist destination and provide a range of practical business supports to help tourism businesses better manage and market their products and services.

Tourism Ireland is responsible for marketing the island of Ireland overseas as a holiday and business tourism destination. They deliver world class marketing programmes in 23 markets across the world and reach a global audience up to 600 million each year.
4.3 Local Context

Tourism Ireland and Fáilte Ireland have major roles to play at a national and international level. Donegal County Council, working with Fáilte Ireland and Tourism Ireland plays a key role in local economic and community tourism development, leading on destination product and tourism infrastructure development at a regional level.

Never before has Donegal experienced such collaborative efforts across the region evidenced through the various external reviews and publications commenting on visitor experience and the various strategies that reflect the countywide agenda. There are in addition new and existing strategic plans such as the Local Community Development Plan, County Development Plan, Cultural Services Plan 2016 and Donegal County Council Corporate Plan all of which embrace and support tourism as a key resource now and for the future. These plans provide opportunities to think laterally across all aspects of service provision and amenities. This, in turn, will lead to the creation of synergies which ultimately raise satisfaction levels for visitors.

Donegal County Council has also been engaged with a number of strategic work programmes which enhance and promote existing tourism offerings such as the development of the three Signature Points on the Wild Atlantic Way – Fanad Lighthouse, Malin Head, and Sliabh Liag, in addition to the the signage programme for the Wild Atlantic Way in the County.

Tourism is a key contributor to employment in Donegal with at least one in every ten people in employment being engaged in the tourism and hospitality sector. The recognition of the business potential of tourism is well proven in Donegal and has been instrumental in the recovery and regeneration of the area, with tourism start-ups playing a significant part in economic development. In 2011, over 20% of new enterprises in County Donegal were in the tourism sector. Tourism dependency in the County as depicted on the map is 16-18% which is the third highest in the country.

4.4 Donegal Airport

Donegal Airport opens up the North West for the leisure and business traveller. Located at Carrickfinn, Kincasslagh, the airport is approximately 15 minutes drive from Dungloe and Gweedore, and 45 minutes from Letterkenny. Donegal Airport is situated on the west coast in the area of The Rosses/Gweedore, just 40 minutes flying time from Dublin. The region is noted for its unspoiled natural scenery, its maritime environment, including a significant fishing industry, inhabited islands and a developing tourism industry.

The airport achieved significant passenger growth rates year on year. The growth of the Donegal/Dublin route is mainly due to excellent flight times (early morning out of Donegal and Dublin and evening returns) which is particularly suited for the business and commercial commuters. The twice daily service suits the leisure and tourism market particularly with regard to onward connections. The Scottish service operates four times per week increasing to six times per week during peak seasons. Aer Lingus is the current carrier on both these routes and provides an excellent service. The airport has opened up whole new markets to the tourism sector, enabling product providers i.e. hotels, transport providers, golf clubs, leisure fishing, etc. to promote their facilities to wider domestic and international markets.
5.0  THE MARKET & TARGET AUDIENCE

5.1  Market Segments

In order to sustain and build on international and domestic tourism, Fáilte Ireland’s Growth Strategy created customer segmentation to assist in breaking down target audiences. Two of these target audiences fit well with the Donegal Tourism target market and are as follows:

CULTURALLY CURIOUS
- Seek authentic experiences
- Like to get off the beaten track & immerse themselves in the local stories
- Travel as couples / individuals
- Motivated by the discovery of local areas that offer real and quality experiences accompanied by engaging stories.

GREAT ESCAPERS
- Seek quality time relaxing
- Like picturesque landscapes & explore natural / rural locations
- Usually couples, often with babies or quite young children
- Motivated by getting away from the stress of everyday life and to spend quality time together

Who are the Culturally Curious?

They choose their holiday destinations carefully and are independent ‘active sightseers’ looking to visit new places and expand their experience by exploring landscapes, history and culture. They are unlikely to return for some time once they have visited a new place, and often travel as a couple or as individuals and rarely in a family group. The age group for this demographic is 40+.

Who are the Great Escapers?

They are often couples, approximately 30 years old, some with young children. Most are taking time out from busy lives and careers. They are specifically interested in rural holidays and travel very much as a couple or family. Great Escapers are on holiday for a break, to get close to nature, and to experience quality family time. They are more likely to take part in slightly more strenuous, but not extreme, exploration. They are more interested than other segments in getting connected to nature especially the more remote and exciting places.
Domestic Tourism

FOOTLOOSE SOCIALISERS
On average in their late forties and well educated, they are made up of groups of friends that enjoy getting away and spending quality time together. They make up 15 percent of the domestic market.

CONNECTED FAMILIES
Connected Families make up 23 percent of the domestic market, the single largest segment. They are made up of relatively young families. They are made up of parents in their thirties and early forties and children generally under the age of ten. For Connected Families, family holidays are the best weeks of the year and a special opportunity to spend quality time together, creating memories to last a lifetime.

INDULGENT ROMANTICS
Indulgent Romantics make up 14 percent of the domestic market. Although relatively broad in terms of age profile they are more likely than average to be aged between 45 and 64. They are made up of couples whose ultimate goal is to find the perfect romantic hub for their holiday where they can soak up the luxury, reward themselves, be well looked after and reconnect with one another.
A key asset in the tourism product in Donegal is the range of natural landscape within the County. Donegal has the capacity to meet the requirements of any visitor wanting to participate in their choice of outdoor activity. The list below is an overview of the types of activities available to the discerning tourist.
5.2 Target Audiences

1. Independent Touring Visitors
2. Tour Operators
3. Domestic Day Visitors
4. Special Interest Visitors
5. ‘Astro’ Tourists
6. Walking Groups
7. Marine Tourism Enthusiasts
8. Activity - Adventure Seekers

6.1 Accommodation Overview

Revenue from overseas tourism is expected to reach €5 billion by 2025 from €3.5 billion in 2014 (Fáilte Ireland) and employment in the sector will reach 250,000. This will be underpinned by 10 million overseas visits per year by 2025, compared to 7.6 million in 2014.

Donegal is well placed to accommodate a significant increase in tourist numbers as there is an established diverse range of quality tourist accommodation including hotels, guesthouses, rental cottages, bed and breakfasts, and camping and caravanning sites.

Accommodation in Donegal has grown significantly in the last two decades, including the addition of a five star hotel. Donegal has 6,611 hotel beds in the County with a total of 56 registered hotels. The Donegal County Council Tourism Unit will take a lead role in the delivery of this Tourism Strategy. Donegal Tourism Ltd and its Associate Members will have a key role in assisting in both the development and the monitoring of the integrated work and practices at local level that will enable the successful delivery of the Action Plan. The Action Plan as set out in this Tourism Strategy will act as a road map for the future of tourism in Donegal, a future where all stakeholders continue to work together to deliver real results and achieve the vision adopted.

This is a three year ‘living’ Tourism Strategy that will evolve and adapt to emerging market trends, to outside influences that impact tourism, to funding streams and to visitor requirements in the tourism sector. It will be continuously monitored and evaluated to ensure that the Tourism Strategy meets the objectives set out and will be reviewed and an updated every three years.
6.4 The Collaborative Approach

A unique strength of the tourism success in Donegal to date is the collaborative approach that now exists across the Membership and Staff of Donegal County Council, Agencies such as Fáilte Ireland, the Tourism Providers, and the Community and Voluntary Sector in the County. Donegal County Council, through its continued financial and organisational support, will through its Tourism Unit, continue to develop, promote and celebrate Tourism in the County. The Council has always had a strong commitment to tourism and the development of this Tourism Strategy further demonstrates the dedication of the Local Authority to stimulating the Donegal economy and creating and maintaining jobs in the tourism sector.

The approach to date is one based on a partnership and team work within Donegal County Council and across the County. The extent and impact of the work done in the County over that past number of years by the various partners in the tourism area has benefited from the existence of Donegal Tourism Ltd as a vehicle to jointly plan, resource and implement a comprehensive programme.
6.5 Structure of Donegal Tourism CLG

Donegal Tourism CLG is a company limited by guarantee, set up through involvement by Donegal County Council in its tourism development and marketing remit. The Board of Directors of Donegal Tourism Ltd is comprised of a range of representatives from across the tourism sector in the County including the Cathaoirleach and Chief Executive of the Council. In order to assist the Board of Donegal Tourism in engaging the sector to the fullest extent it has set up an Associate Members Forum which together with the Tourism Sectoral Forum feeds into the activities of Donegal Tourism Ltd including its planning and marketing activities in particular. This structure will continue to be a key pillar in the future development of Tourism in the County and will be the primary point of collaborative engagement between the Council’s Tourism Unit and the wider Tourism Sector.
6.6 Strategy Alignment

Donegal County Council will continue to align its work in this area with the wide range of strategies that have an impact on tourism. One of the most significant, being the County Donegal Development Plan is currently being reviewed. The Draft Plan which is due to be published in early May, 2017 will:

- Recognise Donegal’s significant tourism resource, the opportunity presented by the Wild Atlantic Way and recent positive media exposure regarding Donegal’s tourism product, the importance of ‘regionality’ (i.e. attracting visitors to the North West) and ‘seasonality’ (developing new products and attractions which encourage visitors to stay longer and extend the season) and the overall role that tourism plays in the socio-economic regeneration of the county.

- Set out an overall strategy for tourism related developments to based on; protecting Donegal’s key underlying tourism resource, facilitating new developments which provide signature, supporting and ancillary tourism experiences consistent with the overarching themes and brand proposition of the Wild Atlantic Way and providing new high quality tourism accommodation at appropriate locations in a manner which safeguards the tourism resource and generates economic benefits for the local community.

- Give effect to this strategy by setting out key objectives including: developing new motivational ‘must do’ signature tourism experiences, facilitating a wide range of tourism products and attractions, providing quality public visitor infrastructure, developing new greenways, walking and cycling routes, and enhancing road, air and sea access to Donegal.

- Provide a policy framework to manage future development which will seek to inter alia; safeguard the natural landscape and built heritage of the county, protect the scenic amenities of the Wild Atlantic Way, preserve the visual settings of key tourism attractions, enhance cruise ship access, and facilitate resource/activity based tourism products, campervan stopover sites, and purpose built high quality holiday resorts.
6.7 Collaboration with the Trade

Donegal County Council recognises the value of and takes a leading role in collaborative marketing and tourism development with the tourism trade in Donegal. Donegal Tourism regularly communicates with representatives from the tourism trade and has a number of segmented databases ensuring that information sent out via regular e-mail newsletters is relevant and informative to recipients based on their sector and individual needs.

Donegal County Council in association with Donegal Tourism has hosted a number of key tourism events aimed at the trade over recent years including the very successful ‘Connecting the Wild Atlantic Way Tourism Conference’ which featured a number of excellent industry relevant keynote speakers from organisations such as Google, Facebook, Customer Service Excellence Ireland and more, plus relevant case studies presented by local SMEs in the tourism sector. As an ongoing priority Donegal County Council plans to host events that are relevant and of potential benefit to the tourism sector and will host two general Tourism Seminars and one Marine Tourism Seminar annually.

Donegal County Council and Donegal Tourism have included participation at promotional marketing events annually as a vital element in the overall Marketing Strategy for the County. During 2016 and 2017 ‘Destination Donegal’ has been promoted at the Holiday World Shows in Belfast and Dublin to an audience of approximately 66k visitors. The promotion of Donegal at the Holiday World Shows demonstrated the benefits of collective marketing as representatives from the trade attended the shows and the stand was divided into key regions of Donegal. This was extremely useful to the potential visitors enabling them to get first hand local knowledge of each area. Donegal County Council Tourism Unit also promotes the County at a number of other events such as Connect16, Celtic Connections, SeaFest, Dive 2016 and many more.

Donegal County Council has developed a trade website aimed at representatives and stakeholders in the tourism sector. The trade website is www.countydonegaltourism.com and aims to provide a source of useful information such as details of projects, upcoming events, digital marketing tips and much more.

Donegal County Council Tourism Unit provides a range of training and support services for the tourism sector including the development and maintenance of websites, guest lecturing at various events and at the Tourism College, online training webinars, marketing advice and support, informative newsletters with details of upcoming training courses and much more.

Businesses and representatives from the tourism sector have regular opportunities to participate in joint marketing campaigns working with staff in the Tourism Unit of Donegal County Council for example online social media campaigns, promotional events and trade shows, offline print campaigns and much more. SMEs in the tourism sector have provided a range of complimentary prizes as sponsorship for competitions.

6.8 Connecting Donegal with Northern Ireland and Neighbouring Counties

It is intended that the Tourism Strategy will nurture collaborations with Northern Ireland and other neighbouring counties such as Leitrim and Sligo and beyond, depending on the target audience and product being promoted. The goal is to promote the North West to a worldwide audience, allowing for more visitor choice, increasing our competitiveness and improving our offering.

Cross-border collaboration has always been an important element in the overall strategy of Donegal County Council and a successful track record of working together with Councils and other representatives in both Northern Ireland and beyond on a wide range of cross border initiatives with many successful projects is already in place.

Many cross border projects already underpin successes to date. The Greenway Initiative will link Inishowen to Derry and the Lifford area to the wider Strabane area with a non-motorised greenway tourism route. The MalinWaters project is a partnership of several regions including Northern Ireland.

Causeway Coast and Glens Borough Council, Derry City and Strabane District Council and Donegal County Council have a history of strong working relationships and have delivered many successful projects over the years. There is a desire to look at ways to connect the Wild Atlantic Way to the Causeway Coastal Route via Derry.

Mid and East Antrim Borough Council has worked with Donegal County Council on projects such as MalinWaters and the INTERREG IVA funded Sliabh Liag and The Gobbins project where capital works were strategically delivered alongside a joint marketing plan. There is scope to explore linkages further.
Infrastructure is vital to a growing tourism economy and poor underdeveloped infrastructure is a barrier to tourism development. Donegal County Council is committed to identifying gaps in the tourism infrastructure and assessing means of sourcing funding to resolve those gaps by adopting a feasible phased approach to infrastructure enhancement. Efforts are ongoing to maximise opportunities in sourcing additional funding for various capital projects to supplement funding already committed by Donegal County Council through their 3-Year Capital Budget Plan 2016-2018. When Infrastructure is being put in place it is also important to consider the future maintenance of such infrastructure which will have costs and require responsibility.

Infrastructure includes a wide portfolio of work including roads, broadband, air access, rail, signage, water, wastewater, transport, housing, footpaths, playgrounds and parks, local amenities, buildings, leisure centres and streetscapes. Other examples of important tourism infrastructure include for example, cycle routes, greenways, paths and trails, riversides, marinas, pontoons and moorings etc.

The Donegal County Council in conjunction with Fáilte Ireland have been and continue to be involved in the installation of the Wild Atlantic Way infrastructure (signage, Discovery Points, Photo Points, etc.) in addition to regularly supporting and assisting in the construction of funded tourism initiatives, such as some of the improvements at Sliabh Liag.

Donegal County Council is continuously working on a county wide programme of capital works to support community, economic and tourism development objectives. Improvements to our roads network will be an important objective for Donegal County Council in supporting the Tourism Strategy. Donegal has 6,408km of road network of which 152km is National Primary, 157km is National Secondary and 6,099km are regional or local roads. The Public Art Office has plans for the development of new sculptures that will enhance various important tourist sites in Donegal. The development of a Donegal Diaspora Centre would be a great asset and focal point for Donegal Diaspora.
MALIN HEAD

Malin Head developments are being carried out in a phased approach with Phase 1 including the development of a viewing platform. Phase 2 will include the construction of a toilet block, car parking, lay-bys and the production of a Master Plan for the overall development of Malin Head. As a film location for Star Wars and an area of outstanding natural beauty, Malin Head must be prepared to deal with increasing visitor numbers in the coming years.

SLIABH LIAG

Sliabh Liag is a major flagship tourism project for Donegal with investment coming from a number of sources including Donegal County Council, Fáilte Ireland and EU INTERREG IVA funding. Capital works at Sliabh Liag have included the development of visitor amenities and access improvements including the mountain path. Donegal County Council in association with Donegal Tourism Ltd has developed a website and social media presence for Sliabh Liag, which will be handed over to the community company that is to manage the Sliabh Liag site going forward.
FANAD HEAD

Fanad Head peninsula on the Wild Atlantic Way is an excellent touring route flanked by the new developments at the Fanad Lighthouse Visitor Centre and self-catering accommodation that has now opened there.

FANAD LIGHTHOUSE

Fanad Lighthouse is a major tourism attraction for Donegal and a great asset to Fanad Head. Fanad Lighthouse opened to the public for the first time in March 2016. The building was one of 5 across the north, renovated with funding from the EU Interreg programme as delivered by the SEUPB. Infrastructure works at Fanad Head include the refurbishment of the Lighthouse itself to create a unique visitor centre experience and adjoining self-catering apartments.

Guided tours are now offered and the visitor can learn about lighthouses and the important function they perform at sea, go back in time hearing stories of the light keepers of times past and can climb to the top of the tower.

There is also the opportunity to stay in a lighthouse with 3 lighthouse keepers’ houses available for hire. These offer most ‘mod cons’ (no TV or internet) but still have that special timeless atmosphere.

After a successful first year, the project is already on ‘Phase 2’ with builders on-site on the new visitor centre which is due to open in June and consists of car-parking, washroom facilities, ticket office and small cafe with the assistance of funding from Fáilte Ireland.
7.1 A Wide & Varied Offering

County Donegal as a border County is bounded on the southwest, west and north by the Atlantic Ocean and on the east by Counties Tyrone, Derry, Fermanagh and Leitrim. Donegal shares 93% of its entire land boundary with Northern Ireland and the remainder with County Leitrim in the south. In terms of a Post-Brexit world, Donegal stands to be the Irish county which will have the largest land border with Northern Ireland, and by definition will hold the largest land border of any County between Britain and the European Union.

Additionally, Donegal also boasts one of the largest collections of inhabited and uninhabited islands off of its coastline. Donegal has significant connectivity by air, through its own Donegal regional airport, and also through Ireland West Airport Knock, City of Derry Airport, Belfast International Airport, and George Best Belfast City Airport, all of which can be reached within two hours. Donegal truly is a place to ‘get away from it all’.

Donegal is home to Ireland’s most northerly point at Malin Head, the highest sea cliffs in Europe at Sliabh Liag and lots of sandy beaches such as Magherawarden, Rosnowlagh, Trawbrega, White Strand, Narin, Marble Hill, Downings, Carrickfinn and Magheroarty, and more. Many beaches have Blue Flag status and the two major sea Loughs of Lough Swilly and Lough Foyle can be enjoyed in Donegal. It also has the longest coastline of not only the Wild Atlantic Way, but also of any county on the island of Ireland. Being one of the largest counties in Ireland, Donegal enjoys several different geographical attributes ranging from its low lying sandy beaches to its mountainous terrain further inland, and its series of rugged peninsulas of the north of the County.
7.2 Adventure Tourism

Adventure tourism is highly impacted by the development of Information Technology that allows an easy access to information, making the planning and booking stages of the trip much easier. According to the Adventure Tourism Market Study, 69% of the adventure travellers reported online research in advance of their trip. Between 2010 and 2013 the number of people searching for information on Facebook has doubled.

The adventure travel market in Europe (also North and South America) has experienced an average annual increase of 65% between 2009 and 2012 together with a global increase in percentage of adventure travellers (26.3% in 2009 to 41.9% in 2012).

Adventure tourism is defined by the Adventure Travel Trade Association as ‘any domestic or international trip that includes at least two of the three aspects: physical activity, interaction with nature and cultural learning or exchange’. There are 34 different activities considered as different forms of adventure tourism and categorised as either ‘soft adventure’ (e.g. hiking, bird watching, horse riding, angling) or ‘hard adventure’ (climbing, trekking, caving, sky diving) or other tourism activities.

Adventure travellers are more likely to explore new destinations and new products. They want to connect with local people and regional culture and look for authentic experiences.

Donegal, located along the world-class Wild Atlantic Way route, with varied and largely untouched landscape, good amenities and growing numbers of adventure experiences available throughout, can offer everything adventure seekers wish for and more. Recent accolades of the ‘Coolest Place on the Planet’ by the National Geographic Traveller Magazine and ‘Ireland’s Hidden Gem’ in Independent Traveller will attract large domestic and global attention, opening up an array of PR opportunities for the county.

7.3 Niche Tourism

7.3.1 FOOD TOURISM
Donegal has a strong and growing reputation as a producer of good quality food as well as an excellent offering in a range of restaurants and local artisan food products. Donegal’s unique location and natural environment has resulted in distinctive farming and fishing techniques. This has led to the production of distinctly Donegal food products, particularly in our most remote, unspoilt and least agriculturally productive areas. The agri food sector is continuing to experience growth as more and more indigenous brands are becoming established and being distributed to a wider consumer base.

The Donegal Food Strategy has presented a clear vision as to how to achieve success ‘by working collectively to make Donegal famous for food and recognised as a pioneering region for its approach to fostering and growing new start up and existing food businesses’ and as set out in The Donegal Local Economic & Community Plan 2016-2022.

7.3.2 FILM TOURISM
Having played host to a long line of productions and with films such as, Star Wars, A Shine of Rainbows, 48 Angels and Grabbers in recent years, Donegal has been firmly established as the perfect choice for film location managers. Ethereal landscapes, clean light, long days, friendly hospitality and quality production resources through the Donegal Film Office are amongst the many features attracting film makers from all over the world. Accommodating productions whether large or small has many direct and indirect benefits to the County. These include the direct creation of employment locally, increased business to local service providers and in many cases the final product acts as a global showcase of Donegal’s offering.

7.3.3 WILDLIFE TOURISM
Donegal has much opportunity to develop coastal and inland wildlife tourism. Donegal County Council has had an influential involvement in projects such as Inch Wildfowl Reserve and Wildsea Europe, both with an aim to promote wildlife tourism while ensuring the protection of our species and natural environment. Donegal is ideally located and attracts a wide range of species with factors such as the flow of the Gulf Stream making our waters ideal feeding and breeding grounds for species such as the basking shark, mink whales, dolphins, blue fin tuna, seals etc. There is potential to develop Donegal as a Whale Heritage Site with the World Cetacean Alliance. Birdlife in Donegal is also exceptional and many species thrive here. Our land mammals are also attracting attention in terms of wildlife tourism. We have a considerable offering that the wildlife specialist observer wants to see and also plenty to attract the more casual wildlife watching visitor.

7.3.4 ASTRO TOURISM
Astro Tourism is a new and emerging tourism activity in County Donegal with the increasing popularity associated with the Northern Lights – Aurora Borealis. Visitors come to Donegal to see the lights but also to partake in specialist activities such as photography, painting etc.

Rural areas with good quality clear dark skies and scenic backdrops in which to take part in photography, observation, painting etc.

7.3.5 BUSINESS TOURISM
Business Tourism is a key component of the emerging Tourism offering in the County. In 2015, it was worth €669m to the Irish economy, reflecting a 35% increase since 2011. It accounts for 16% of overseas tourism spend in Ireland and one of the highest yield sectors in tourism. (Fáilte Ireland)

Donegal Tourism in 2016 showcased Donegal at Connect16 which was a platform for businesses involved in organising business events in Ireland. Delegations from Canada, United States, France, Germany and UK were in attendance.
7.3.6 SPORT TOURISM

Sport is an attractor which presents an opportunity to expand visitor numbers in Donegal. The economic benefits of Sports Tourism (both direct and indirect) are substantial. It generates economic activity by increasing tourism expenditure in hotels, restaurants, attractions, retail and service businesses in the locality. This year Donegal will host the 2017 All-Ireland Coastal Rowing Championships in Ballyshannon. This is one of the biggest Rowing Regattas in the country and takes place over 3 days in early August attracting over 4,000 visitors to Donegal for this event.

The Donegal International Rally is an annual sporting event held in Donegal. It is one of Ireland’s longest established and best annual rally competitions and is a top event in the Irish Rallying calendar. The rally brings thousands of Domestic and International visitors to Donegal. Donegal Tourism aims to facilitate and grow a viable and internationally competitive sports tourism industry which can maximise its contribution to the Donegal economy.

7.3.7 GOLF

In total Donegal has 17 golf courses located around the county. The quality of these links golf courses is widely acclaimed in the golfing world. Ballyliffin Golf Club was recently voted the best 36 hole links complex in the world by the influential US Golf Magazine – Golf Odyssey.

There are only 150 links golf courses in the world and Donegal is home to 14 of these. The importance of golf tourism to Donegal cannot be overstated with local hotels, guesthouses, B&B’s, bars and restaurants jointly benefiting from the spend in the local economy. It is essential that we continue to actively market and promote Donegal’s unique golf product on the international stage.
7.3.8 CULTURAL TOURISM
County Donegal’s unique and varied culture is a source of immense pride. Our county and its culture have always been intertwined. This culture is an all encompassing, evolving force that helps us express and celebrate who we are as a diverse, traditional and modern people. Donegal County Council believes that to invest in arts, culture, heritage and language is a commitment to a healthier, more fulfilled, prosperous and successful county.

A unique model of delivery in Ireland, Donegal County Council Cultural Services is comprised of the countywide Library Service, the Arts Service, the Regional Cultural Centre, Donegal County Museum, the Archives Service and County Donegal Heritage Office. Through our arts, libraries, language and heritage, we showcase a county that strikes a unique cultural beat. We believe that this beat should be heard loudly, clearly and confidently across the mountains and lakes of Donegal, Ireland and the world.

Cultural tourism represents one of the largest and fastest growing sections of tourism globally. Overseas holidaymakers say that Ireland’s history and culture are crucially important factors in their choice to come here. Our culture helps engender a deepened sense of place, citizenship and pride of place. Donegal County Council believes that promoting and supporting the arts, culture, heritage and language, is good for our society, our economy and our national identity both at home and abroad. Donegal County Council is committed to the development of partnerships for delivery of shared cultural goals and works in partnership with organisations throughout Donegal and nationally to promote and develop its cultural tourism product. The workplans associated with this Strategy will enable the Council to:

- Continue to develop and secure the County’s Festival and Events Programme
- Support a network of independent strategically important arts/cultural organisations in the County.
- Support the development of traditional arts, contemporary arts and new art forms.
- Provide access to genealogy resources through the Library, Museum and Archives Services and further enhance the capacity and resources available.
- Explore opportunities to unlock the potential of our built heritage through the conservation, regeneration and reuse of historic buildings for cultural activities
- Develop a county wide mechanism for information sharing on what’s-on with particular emphasis on the extensive Donegal Cultural events calendar
- Identify and promote historic landmarks, historical figures and culture along the Wild Atlantic Way
7.4 Cultural Infrastructure

- Donegal Diaspora Centre – develop a world class Donegal Diaspora Centre where culture, entertainment and technology combine in celebration of the achievements and experiences of the Donegal Diaspora.

- County Museum – renovate, develop and extend the Museum building to present the history of Donegal in an attractive, informative and interactive manner.

- Archives Centre – develop a purpose designed Archives Centre to preserve and make accessible the unique archival heritage of County Donegal.

- Artscape Donegal Sculpture Park – create a unique flagship sculpture park showcasing the best of modern and contemporary Irish sculpture set in Donegal’s dramatic landscape.

- Cultural Quarter – maximise opportunities to create a cultural quarter in Letterkenny to incorporate the RCC, An Grianan and the Museum.
Greenways are increasingly becoming a very important and integral part of the tourism infrastructure both in Europe and on the Wild Atlantic Way. The emphasis is growing on the provision of Greenways where visitors can enjoy a high quality engaging leisure experience along traffic free eco-friendly routes that are mapped and have infrastructure and facilities of a high standard.

Some examples of routes in the County are:

- North West Greenway project: €15 million INTERREG V funding to develop 46.5 km of cross-border greenway between the Strabane and Lifford areas and the Derry-Muff and Derry-Buncrana areas. This is a joint project between Donegal County Council and Derry City & Strabane District Council.

- Letterkenny to Burtonport Old Railway Line Phase one Greenway: Following feasibility study completion the next steps will be to progress planning and design works and establish the required permissions to enable a funding application for first phase works.

- Other significant route developments that are in planning phase include Ballybofey to Donegal Town, Border to Carrigans Village, Porthall to Strabane and Fintown to Glenties.

“€15 million INTERREG V allocation to Derry City & Strabane District Council and Donegal County Council to develop 46.5 km of cross border greenway.”
GREENWAY FEASIBILITY STUDY

Funding has been secured to advance the feasibility study on the Letterkenny to Burtonport old railway route for a possible greenway. Donegal County Council and Údarás na Gaeltachta have match funded the study.

CYCLING

EuroVelo is a well established cycle route network offering sustainable Trans-European network of long distance cycle routes. EuroVelo is managed by the European Cyclists’ Federation who seek to ensure all routes are of a high standard in terms of design, signage and safety. They also carry out a range of marketing and promotional activities to promote cycling across Europe. Donegal has been identified as a key location for the development of cycling routes. Donegal County Council is working in conjunction with Sligo County Council and Mayo County Council and partners in the UK, France, Spain and Portugal to further develop opportunities on the EuroVelo route.

BLUEWAY DEVELOPMENT

Blueways Ireland is a tourism initiative that focuses on developing non-motorised recreational and outdoor pursuits along the coastal and waterway areas of Ireland. Blueways are similar to Greenways in terms of the type of activities that are available including for example cycling, walking, kayaking etc. but are located close to waterways along the coast and inland along canals, rivers and lakes.

According to the Report on the Blueway Pilot 2017 a “Blueway is more than a water trail; it is a distinct place where the marine environment and community partnership collaborate to enhance the visitor’s experience and support the local economy”. The lead agency for the development of Blueways is Waterways Ireland and a number of locations have been piloted under the Blueway scheme including Mayo and Galway. There are opportunities for Donegal to support the development of Blueways in various locations county wide in collaboration with Waterways Ireland. Creating a Blueway would require the introduction of new facilities for visitors e.g. toilets, rest areas, identification and promotion of attractions along the Blueway, infrastructure for example a canoe trail and the introduction of a range of activities such as boating, angling, walking, cycling and wildlife watching.
9.0 THE MARINE TOURISM SECTOR

Currently the marine sector in Donegal employs approximately 3,200 full and part time people in fishing/farming, processing and service activities contributing €190 million annually to income in the county. Marine and water-based leisure activities are estimated to create an additional €25 million in Marine Tourism revenue and employ around 650 people.

County Donegal has a well established marine tradition, culture and heritage. The Marine sector in general has made a significant contribution to Donegal in terms of the economy over the years. The commercial marine sector in Donegal is varied and incorporates everything from catching, fish farming, processing of fish from a commercial fishing perspective. The fishing fleet in Killybegs and Donegal is significant with approximately 261 vessels and Donegal accounts for 25% - 40% of fishing production and product output in Ireland.

The natural marine resources in the county make it ideal for the expansion of marine leisure activities. The Donegal mainland coastline is one of the longest in Ireland at 1,134km and constitutes over 17% of the national total. The Donegal coastline lends itself to being an ideal water-based tourism destination, a means of diversification in the marine sector to compliment commercial fishing activity.

This Strategy provides for an analysis of Marine Tourism in County Donegal to consider the future of water-based tourism in the County which will take place at a critical time for the future of Marine Tourism in light of the launch of Fáilte Ireland's Wild Atlantic Way.

There is a rich, active and renewed interest in maritime heritage and history throughout Donegal as a consequence of its rich and impressive range of maritime heritage attractions and offerings. Collective marketing and complementary product development will create a useful platform on which to develop the sector.

Donegal offers a wealth of coastal and marine tourism activities that enrich our tourism offering in coastal areas.

Visitors to Donegal are spoiled for choice when it comes to the range, extent and access to beautiful clean beaches. The Tourism Strategy will include provisions in the action plan to maximise the potential of promoting Donegal beaches as among the cleanest, safest and most beautiful in the world.

The Designated Bathing Water Regulations applies to beaches and bathing areas where ‘a large number of people are expected to bathe’ and provides for the identification, monitoring, classification and management of those waters and the provision of information to the public. Donegal County Council has 21 of the 136 Designated Bathing Areas (DBAs) nationally. With 15% of such areas, Donegal is by far the lead Local Authority (see Figure 2).
BEACH PROMOTION INITIATIVES

Of the 21 Designated Bathing Areas in Donegal tested for water quality, a number receive additional management, adhering to strict promotional initiatives such as Blue Flag or Green Coast awards. Figure 3 details these beaches and their promotional initiatives. Designated, Blue Flag and Green Coast beaches all must meet the same excellent water quality standard.

GREEN COAST BEACHES

An Taisce is responsible for the operation of the Green Coast and Blue Flag programmes in Ireland on behalf of the Foundation of Environmental Education. The aim of the Green Coast Award is to recognise beaches of high environmental quality. To achieve the award, beaches must have ‘excellent’ water quality and have effective and appropriate management to ensure the protection of the natural environment. These beaches are often more remote and will not necessarily require the same infrastructure as Blue Flag standard beaches.

MARRAM GRASS TRANSPLANTING

A section of the Carrickfinn beach dune which had suffered erosion and subsequent blow-out was replanted with marram grass in February 2017 assisted on the day by up to 30 volunteers. In time, it is hoped that the work undertaken will assist the dune to recover and rebuild. This is a very important collaborative initiative taken by Donegal County Council, An Taisce and community volunteers who seek the preservation of our beaches. Such positive approaches to protecting our valued beaches, for local communities and for visitors into the future are an integral and important part of future strategy.

BLUE FLAG BEACHES

The Blue Flag is one of the world’s most recognised eco-labels. The programme aims to raise environmental awareness and promote sound environmental practices and behaviours among beach users. There are 4154 Blue Flag beaches in 49 countries across the world. Donegal currently has 13 of Ireland’s 79 Blue Flag beaches in Ireland; the joint highest held by a Local Authority in 2016. To achieve the flag an application is made to An Taisce, scrutinised by a National Jury and, if appropriate, awarded by an International Jury (see Figure 4).

The Blue Flags are judged on 33 criteria based on Environmental education activities, water quality, ecosystems, water safety, codes of conducts, etc. The TripAdvisor table of Travellers’ Choice award-winners are determined based on traveller reviews. These are subjective and the awards influenced by numbers of reviews received.

OUR ISLANDS

The islands off the coast of County Donegal are a major asset to Marine Tourism. Our islands are home to some of the most beautiful and varied coastal landscapes in the world. The vibrant heritage, culture and Irish language traditions of our islands are what make the island visitor experience truly unique. Development and marketing of the Donegal islands forms a key part of the overall Tourism Strategy.
Donegal County Council is a member of FEDETON (Federation of European Nautical Tourism Destinations). Created in 2009, the FEDETON is an initiative of the French and Spanish networks of Nautical Destinations. Together FEDETON covers 20 regions, 300 municipalities and over 2,500 companies along the Mediterranean and Atlantic coasts, Channel, Northern Sea and overseas. The model for these networks aims at improving the competitiveness and sustainability of Tourism in marine and coastal destinations and responds to the challenge arising from the fragmentation of the tourism value chain.

FEDETON promotes the collaboration among stakeholders at destination level in order to realise their potential as nautical destinations, develop specialised products and services, and make them available to the public in general and particularly to actual and potential tourists. FEDETON’s national and local networks including Donegal fulfil that role in support of nautical tourism. The General Assembly meeting of FEDETON took place in Donegal Town in July 2016.

“FEDETON COVERS 20 REGIONS, 300 MUNICIPALITIES AND OVER 2,500 COMPANIES ALONG THE MEDITERRANEAN AND ATLANTIC COASTS, CHANNEL, NORTHERN SEA AND OVERSEAS.”
Angling is an important tourism activity for Donegal. Sea angling, game, coarse and pike are just a few of the many types of angling opportunities available in Donegal set in wonderful scenic locations both in coastal regions and inland. There is potential for economic growth in the angling sector. Angling has particular importance for rural areas both in coastal and inland regions as it brings significant local economic value to the area. Anglers require accommodation, food and entertainment, boat hire and equipment, an estimated value of over €105 million to the overall economy in Ireland. Working with organisations such as the Donegal Angling Tourism Alliance (DATA), Inland Fisheries Ireland, Bord Iascaigh Mhara and the Loughs Agency among others will help deliver on an integral angling strategy for Donegal. The World Sea Angling Championships took place in Donegal and Sligo collectively in 2015 and it would be of benefit to bid for other major angling events in the future.
DIVING

Diving is becoming an increasingly popular marine activity in Donegal and recognition of the wide range of world-class diving opportunities is gradually reaching dive enthusiasts worldwide. The offering includes the magnificent ship wreck diving off our coast and the marine eco-systems in locations such as St. John’s Point which are attracting divers of all skill levels and experience from around the world. Donegal Tourism Ltd attended the promotional dive show DIVE 2016 at the NEC in Birmingham where Donegal was promoted at a dedicated ‘Dive into Donegal’ stand. Interest in diving in Donegal was phenomenal at this event. Plans to continue to develop infrastructure and marketing activities in relation to diving are underway, while at the same time being mindful of the delicate nature of our dive locations and the need to conserve and protect them.

CRUISE TOURISM

Cruise Tourism in Donegal has grown significantly in the last number of years with Killybegs Harbour being the main port taking the lead in this initiative. Cruise tourism figures have increased in recent years. Two major cruise ships have been confirmed to visit Killybegs in 2018. These are the MS Queen Elizabeth with 2,048 passengers and MS Queen Victoria with 1,988 passengers.

Cruise tourism passenger numbers have increased in the last number of years as shown in the following table:

Greencastle is now developing its cruise offering looking towards a collaborative approach to marketing s a Cruise Destination of Excellence. Cruise tourism is an area of marine tourism that has great potential for the future.

Projects such as MalinWaters seek to develop cruise tourism by a collaborative approach to marketing including working with partners in Sligo, Donegal, Northern Ireland and Scotland to promote the MalinWaters regions as new cruise destinations to cruise operators who are experiencing high demand for new itineraries.

There is great potential to develop links with Scandinavia and further afield promoting Donegal as an exciting new addition to any cruise itinerary. Luxury cruise tourism and super yachts are lucrative areas of cruise tourism currently being researched. Donegal County Council is now a member of the Cruise Ireland which seeks to develop and promote all aspects of cruise tourism on the island of Ireland.
SAILING AND BOATING

Donegal County Council has been involved in sailing and boating tourism for a number of years. Primarily the Sail West project, which Donegal County Council led and launched in 2010 has delivered a significant improvement to sailing and boating tourism in Donegal with provision of infrastructure in several key locations. The Sail West project delivered the MalinWaters brand and the partnership consortium that originally made up Sail West is going from strength to strength. The Cool Route project, led by CIT (Cork Institute of Technology) in which Donegal County Council is a partner also seeks to develop sailing from Cork further north to Norway and the Faroe Islands. There is still much work to be done in the sailing and boating sector in Donegal, as a priority there is still a need for capital works and infrastructure improvements to continue to seamlessly link the necklace of marinas, pontoons and moorings along the coast of Donegal.

DONEGAL TOURISM STRATEGY 2017 - 2020

ROWING

Rowing was a sector that had declined in previous years, however is now seeing a significant growth in the number of rowing clubs being created and revived county wide. Rowing is an important marine activity and Donegal and can deliver both benefits for tourism and the local community in terms of health and wellbeing and social inclusion. The All Ireland Coastal Rowing Championships have chosen Donegal as their venue for 2016 and 2017. This shows that Donegal has the necessary infrastructure and facilities to host such an important event for the Irish Rowing Federation, but improvements can be made. Participants and spectators at this event provided feedback to say that Donegal was a fantastic place from a tourism perspective; the people were warm and welcoming. Donegal can bid for major marine sporting events such as this in the future with good success.
Surfing in Donegal has become one of the fastest growing leisure sports of the past number of years with hundreds of surfers converging on the county on a weekly basis to experience the famous Atlantic waves along golden beaches and reefs that the county has to offer. It continues to grow in popularity and has helped reduce seasonality in Donegal as it is an all year round activity enjoyed by surfers from around the world. While most of our visiting surfers would be “weekend warriors” making their way west from the capital or north in search of the perfect barrel, a number have made their home here, be it in the Bundoran, Rossnowlagh, Dunfanaghy or Portnoo areas.

Bundoran in the south of the County still remains Ireland’s Surf Capital with hundreds of groups and individuals flocking to the seaside town weekly to either learn to surf or improve their existing skills. Tullan Strand which was voted Red Bull’s “number one beginner beach in Ireland” in 2016 is a very popular destination. For the more experienced, the “Peak” which hosted the European Surfing Championships in 2011 presents a more challenging experience. The Sea Sessions Surf and Music Festival which is held in Bundoran is an important event in the surf calendar. Bundoran attracts many surf professionals and last year 3 times ASP World Champion, Mick Fanning, stopped in Bundoran and included footage of the county in “Mick Fanning’s Irish Crossroads” which has amassed over 150,000 views on You Tube and almost half a million views on Facebook.

Kayaking, SUP, Coasteering and Other Marine Activities

In addition to the aforementioned marine activities, Donegal has a wide range of other activities to offer such as kayaking, SUP (Stand Up Paddle boarding), coasteering, canoeing, banana boating and much more. Positioning Donegal with its location on the Wild Atlantic Way as a destination that offers something for everyone in terms of marine activities will be an important element of our tourism strategy going forward.
10.0 EDUCATION

Investment in educating people and developing innovative new training programmes to increase skill levels in the Tourism sector will lead to sustainable and competitive growth when applied correctly. Tourism is now developing as a year round employer which highlights the need to increase the skills and development training necessary to support same. The work of the Letterkenny Institute of Technology at both its Letterkenny campus and its dedicated Killybegs School of Tourism is greatly appreciated and is critical to the industry as it prepares for growth. The tourism sector requires skilled, qualified employees who are professional and service minded, ideally speaking some foreign languages. There is also a need for additional motivated and innovative entrepreneurs who can bring new ideas and new approaches to areas such as digital marketing in the tourism sector. Local enterprise, private sector companies, stakeholders and administrators must work together to see real and lasting success in tourism.
11.0 THE GAELTACHT

A key objective of the Údarás na Gaeltachta Strategic Plan is to ‘stimulate the development of tourism as a driver of economic development in the Gaeltacht’. The Donegal Gaeltacht is the largest of the seven Gaeltacht areas in the country covering a third of the area of the County with a significant portion of the Wild Atlantic Way.

Irish is the most ancient written language in Western Europe, and is the everyday speaking language of the Donegal Gaeltacht. For visitors, it is a unique experience to hear this ancient language being spoken by the locals. The Donegal Gaeltacht contains a population of 23,783, a quarter of the total Gaeltacht population in Ireland. While language is the foremost uniquely defining feature of this area, the Gaeltacht also maintains a rich social and cultural heritage.

The geographical extent of the Gaeltacht area includes the 6 inhabited islands of Árainn Mhór, Toraigh, Inis Bó Finne, Inis Fraoigh, Oileán an Bhráighe, agus Gabhla. (Aranmore, Tory, Inishbofin, Inishfree Upper, Island Roy and Gola.) These islands support a total population of 711 inhabitants and along with the mainland Gaeltacht are of great social, economic and environmental interest and are of significant cultural value to the County, the Region and the State. Signage in the Gaeltacht is marked using Irish Place-Names.

The Gaeltacht has many assets such as its extraordinary cultural resources, however its location within areas of outstanding beauty in Donegal have led to the realisation that the Gaeltacht has extensive tourism potential, but it also faces many cultural, infrastructural and economic challenges that must be addressed.
12.0 DONEGAL TRAILS OFFICE

The Donegal Trails Office in Donegal County Council is working on the development of paths and trails in Donegal. The Council via the Donegal Trails Office works closely with other agencies and stakeholders to maintain existing walks and to co-ordinate the development of new routes. These stakeholders include Sport Ireland Trails (formerly the National Trails Office), Fáilte Ireland, Údarás na Gaeltachta, Coillte, Transport Infrastructure Ireland (formerly National Roads Authority), National Parks & Wildlife Services, Office of Public Works, Roinn na Gaeltachta, Inland Fisheries Ireland, Donegal Local Development Company, Inishowen Development Partnership, Comhar na nOileáin and local communities.

Donegal Paths & Trails Office collects data from visitor counters at four strategic projects in Donegal at present: Malin Head, Inch Wildfowl Reserve, Errigal and Sliabh Liag. Statistics are provided to Fáilte Ireland and Donegal Tourism for analysis. Additional visitor counters are to be fitted at some strategically located walks throughout Donegal during 2017 and 2018.

Donegal County Council plans to develop a comprehensive walks and trails app/website with detailed information on all outdoor recreational facilities in Donegal. This will be promoted through the Donegal County Council’s tourism development section. Donegal County Council has an important focus on improving our existing walking infrastructure and ensuring our paths and trails are of a high standard. A number of new local walks and trails are at various stages of development in each Municipal District and form the basis of the future development of our walking infrastructure.
ROUTE MAINTENANCE

Donegal County Council has been working closely with Sport Ireland Trails Office to co-ordinate route inspections for accreditation purposes and for the provision of public liability insurance. The following trails are currently covered under the Donegal County Council’s public liability insurance:

- Dungloe River Walk
- Glencolmcille Loop Walks (Lúb an Túr & Lúb Droim an Oir)
- Bealach Na Gaeltachta/Slí Dhún na nGall (Four main routes – Colmcille, Rosses, Errigal & Finn and three Islands Aran Mor, Tory and Gola)
- The Bluestack Way
- Crolly Loops (Lúb an Chlocháin Bhig, Lúb Loch na Caillí and Súlóide Cois an Ghaoidh), Sliabh Liag Cosán an Oílithrigh Pilgrim Path
- Inishowen Head Loop
- Siuloid an Sean Bhothar iarainn
- Malin Head Path
- Lúb Cheann Bhaile Cruaiche, Lúb Chroicheach Mhór
- Cope Mountain Walk
- Burtonport Old Railway Walk (Creeslough to Falcaragh Section)
- Loch Chonaill Railway Walk
- Bun na Mucaise (Lúb an Iarnród, Lúb Loch na Boll & Lúb Loch Achair) under the jurisdiction of Muckish Development Group
- Glenevin Waterfall Walk & Leenan Loop under the jurisdiction of Ballyliffin Clonmany Urris Community Development

These trails need to be maintained and kept to an acceptable standard and are regularly inspected by the National Trails Office for accreditation and qualification for insurance. Donegal Trails Office has secured funding from the Rural Recreation Grants 2016 to assist with some of these existing routes and to create some new projects.
Community Tourism – Festivals and Events

Festivals and events are an important element of the tourism offering in Donegal and provide opportunities to showcase culture, people and places, enhancing the visitor’s experience of the county.

Festivals and events have a huge economic impact on local regions generating the on-site, as well as off-site spending and overnight revenue. They contribute towards supporting local jobs in the tourism sector and the business sustainability in the region. The Wild Atlantic Way brings new opportunities for the County with growing numbers of visitors travelling the route. Potential visitors often look for events happening in the area and plan their holiday activities around those events.

Since 2012, Donegal Tourism Ltd in partnership with Donegal County Council has been directly involved in working with the event organisers at grassroots level. The year of The Gathering in 2013 proved to be very successful for Donegal and resulted in an increase of small community events taking place throughout the County, bringing additional numbers of domestic and overseas visitors to areas that would not regularly receive tourists. Building on the legacy of the Gathering, Donegal County Council together with the other Local Authorities in Ireland has been involved in the Community Tourism Diaspora Initiative – a joint partnership with IPB Insurance and Fáilte Ireland, providing financial assistance and administering the fund.

In addition, Donegal Tourism supports the community festivals to continue to deliver on the incremental overseas visitors in the coming years and encourage accommodation providers to extend their season by adding listings of local events to their accommodation packages. Donegal County Council is committed to continue its work in support of local festivals and events through the Donegal Gathering website. This website continues to attract domestic and international traffic, with over 130,000 website views, over 62,000 visitors across 122 countries in 2016 and a total of over 488,000 website visits since 2012.
EU, NATIONAL AND LOCAL FUNDED TOURISM PROJECTS

Donegal County Council is proactive in developing and participating in a wide range of projects across a variety of disciplines. Tourism projects are a key dynamic in the overall tourism strategy for Donegal. Donegal County Council is involved in a number of EU, national and local funded tourism projects that address several key aspects of the tourism sector including marine tourism, activity based tourism, geographical mapping, history and culture and much more. Accessing a number of funding streams from EU, national and local sources over the next five years will greatly assist in the achievement of the core aims and objectives set out in this strategy.
13.0 TOURISM PROGRAMME PROJECTS

MALINWATERS

The MalinWaters project is funded by 12 partners following the completion of EU funding. Membership of the MalinWaters project consortium is reviewed on an annual basis. This project aims to develop marine tourism within the shared maritime regions of North West Ireland, Northern Ireland and Western Scotland.

Website statistics from MalinWaters.com have shown a continuous increase in traffic during 2016 in comparison with previous years. Figures show over 40% increase in visitor traffic to MalinWaters.com in 2016. The MalinWaters project provided significant funding and marketing support for a number of strategic marine themed festivals and events.

The MalinWaters Marketing Plan is agreed by partners on an annual basis and contains a detailed digital marketing strategy which will see the deployment of the latest digital enablers to increase MalinWaters brand awareness and increase business for tourism partners in the regions.

In response, ASCENT sets out to develop an environmentally sustainable approach to access uplands and natural environments through the development of management plans and the implementation of innovative measures to restore habitats and limit further damage. ASCENT strives to explore new concepts for balancing tourism with cultural and economic interests and environmental needs; thereby promoting a sense of civic pride among communities and ensuring the long term sustainable management of Areas of Natural Beauty for future generations to come.

The main focus of Donegal’s participation in the ASCENT Project stems from its desire, working with the community, to establish a sustainable approach to the successful management of the ever increasing visitor numbers to Errigal as an iconic destination within Donegal.

ASCENT

Donegal County Council is a partner in the ASCENT Project (Promoting Sustainable Access to Uplands & Natural Environments)

DONEGAL TOURISM STRATEGY 2017 - 2020
HIKING EUROPE

Hiking Europe is a public private co-operative effort supported by the European Union (COSME programme). Its main objective is to promote a transnational network of rural touristic routes structured in several hiking itineraries across Europe. The partnership gathers 8 members from 6 different EU countries: Spain (Catalonia), Italy (Emilia-Romagna), Croatia (Dubrovnik-Neretva), Ireland (Donegal), Austria and Germany. In total, this represents 1,170 km of hiking routes in 4 different EU countries.

To date project partners including Donegal County Council have completed the mapping of natural and cultural resources and have identified the list of the most relevant stakeholders in the four target regions. Donegal County Council chose the Bealach na Gaeltachta National Way. Marked ways and looped walks comprising of: Sli an Earagail, Sli na Rosann, Sli Cholmcille and Sli na Finne as well as the three island walks on Aran Mor, Tory and Gola.

Sample holiday packages from local service providers along these routes are to be marketed through the network and local stakeholders have an opportunity to include their interest / asset on the route maps by visiting Donegal County Council’s website and finding Hiking Europe where you can follow the simple steps to register your interest.

WILDSEA EUROPE

Donegal County Council is a partner in the successful Wildsea Europe tourism project. Funding for this project from the EU EASME programme ended in 2016, however the partners have agreed to continue support for this project into the future. Wildsea Europe is a very successful Sustainable Tourism Route connecting European coastal destinations that host a rich marine biodiversity, unique places where tourists and visitors will be able to experience marine wildlife through water sports and outdoor activities. The Project is a European, public-private cooperation effort that is supported by the COSME programme of the European Union through the Executive Agency for Small and Medium-sized Enterprises (EASME).

Whale watching, Snorkelling, Kayaking, Birding, Trekking, Wildsea Europe delivers great travel hints on unique adventures that can be experienced in coastal destinations allowing tourists and visitors to make responsible contact with marine species in the wild, while learning about their ecology and efforts to preserve them. The Route also offers valuable information on Europe’s best coastal destinations, natural sites of interest, flag species, important habitats, as well as on-going scientific efforts and projects aimed at their conservation.
HERICOAST PROJECT

The Hericoast project supported by Interreg Europe will examine Europe’s maritime and fluvial regions which exist in great diversity, yet show parallels in spatial political challenges. The Cultural heritage of these regions form an essential part of our coastal landscape, heritage which may be particularly vulnerable; exposed to spatial changes in transport, industrialisation of fisheries and use of coastal zones for tourism. This project aims to improve regional policies for heritage management in maritime and fluvial regions by facilitating policy learning and supporting exchange of experience. In this way, the regions will achieve an evidence based more successful result in informing the management and redevelopment of coastal landscapes. Regional policy instruments will be improved through new projects, improved governance and structural change. Internationally the number of visitors to cultural heritage sites is expected to increase and public access to these sites expected to improve. The partnership covers eight partners from six countries: Norway, Romania, Italy, Spain, Netherlands and Ireland. (NO, RO, ES, IT, NL, IE) and officially commenced on the 1st April 2016.

In Donegal Hericoast will examine coastal settlements in the county of unique character, and examine the built, cultural, non-renewable, manmade and natural resources, traditions and lifestyle that form an essential part of the coastal landscape, to inform and encourage growth, particularly in the tourism sector. The project will build on the County’s location within the wider maritime and fluvial regions of Europe that also exists in great diversity exploring commonalities and celebrating the unique and special appeal of the area.

COOL ROUTE

The Cool Route project has an overall value of €1.26 million and is led by the Hincks Centre of Entrepreneurship Excellence in CIT (Cork Institute of Technology). It is addressing the theme of Cruising Oceans on Latitudes above 51° North- researching all aspects of developing a yacht cruising route between Cork and Northern Norway. Donegal County Council is a key partner in this marine tourism project. The consortium includes CIT, Donegal County Council, Royal Cork Yacht Club, Derry City and Strabane District Council, Blue Sea Marinas and the Glasgow Caledonian University, in Scotland. The Port of Torshavn in the Faroe Islands and the Western Norway Research Institute are also partners. The project also greatly benefits from the participation of Associate Partners – Irish Cruising Club, Irish Sailing Association, Sail Scotland and Donegal Tourism Ltd.
CEDRA – DONEGAL’S ATLANTIC COASTAL TRAIL

The launch of the ‘Donegal Atlantic Coastal Trail’ project took place in Killybegs in June 2016. Funding for this project was obtained from the Department of Food, Agriculture and Marine CEDRA funds (Commission for the Economic Development of Rural Areas) by Donegal County Council. This project is a partnership between Donegal County Council and Údarás na Gaeltachta.

The project seeks to develop a tourism trail focused on seafood and marine leisure activities along the coast of Donegal including the islands to compliment the Wild Atlantic Way and the work done on Go Visit Donegal. The project also incorporates a very important training element, which seeks to address some of the issues relating to training and education in Donegal as outlined in this strategy.

The Tourism College in Killybegs (LYIT) has developed a bespoke training course titled ‘Marine Tourism Marketing and Seafood Fundamentals’ for those in the food and marine leisure sector to attend free of charge. A formal recognised qualification would be awarded to students on successful completion of the course.

The first course commenced in September 2016 at full capacity with 30 students and was such a success that it is now running again from January 2017. This course is being delivered by LYIT in Killybegs and covers areas such as marketing your business on the Wild Atlantic Way, digital and offline, seafood preparation, creating packages, selling online and much more. This project also covers a range of complimentary online and offline marketing activities to promote the trail that will be linked in with the current Donegal Tourism websites such as govisitdonegal.com and malinwaters.com.

Another element in this training opportunity via CEDRA involves the introduction of a new programme of study for Transition Year students in secondary schools in Donegal combining both training and real world experience in the marine tourism and seafood sector.
Go Visit Donegal is a consumer facing brand and has achieved a high level of recognition and awareness due to marketing activities carried out to date. The continued development of the brand is of great importance to tourism in the County in conjunction with the Wild Atlantic Way. These marketing activities complement existing national and regional and international level promotions and other initiatives. In addition, Donegal County Council has developed projects such as Donegal Gathering and the Donegal Diaspora Project that have established worldwide connections that continue to grow and expand.

2017-2020 will see the Donegal brand awareness continue to develop and the marketing strategy will take the brand to the next level in terms of target audience reach and conversion to real visitors as agreed by all partners. A number of different marketing activities will be used in conjunction with expert marketing personnel, the shared knowledge of the Board of Directors, Associate Members and Tourism Sectoral Forum.

14.0 CONCLUSION

The development of this Tourism Strategy has highlighted many important considerations for the future of tourism in Donegal. It is clear that much work has been done and significant progress has been made over the last number of years but there is still much vital work ahead for the tourism sector.

The Tourism Strategy covers three years from 2017 – 2020. This is a living document and will be subject to regular evaluation and monitoring. The Tourism Strategy is designed to capture the tourism sector as it currently stands and to make the most informed plans possible based on the information to hand. As outside influences and changes in market trends effect the actions set out in the Tourism Strategy, it will be necessary to adapt and to update the strategy as we progress with this important work.

Overall, tourism figures in County Donegal are increasing and there is great potential to continue to maximise the opportunities presented by the Wild Atlantic Way. Donegal County Council will seek to put in place the resources to deliver this Action Plan and to achieve the strategic objectives and overall vision with collaboration from the tourism trade.

Donegal has a lot to offer and our strengths and opportunities provide a strong motivation to continue a concentration on the Tourism Sector. There are, no doubt, challenges ahead, such as the implications of Brexit which has particular significance for County Donegal. By implementing the Action Plan set out in this Tourism Strategy and working together across a wide range of partnerships and places, we can face these challenges in a collaborative way, finding solutions to problems and turning threats into opportunities. Together we are stronger and we look forward to delivering a successful Donegal County Council Tourism Strategy over the next three years.
