REGISTER OF MOTOR CARS

20

CCP/1/2

A letter which Mr. R. J. Meedy has recently received from the Inland Revenue authorities makes it clear that the registered owner of a motor car is responsible for the licence duty. In view of this fact (he writes in the "Motor News"), it behoves those who sell their cars to see that the registration is transferred in the books of the County Council with whom the car is registered. Nominally, the duty is one that should be looked after by the new purchaser, who should also pay the transfer fee of 5s. in the case of a car and 1s. in the case of a bicycle, but the prudent seller will give notice of the sale to the County Council, at the same time giving the name of the new purchaser so that the necessary form of transfer may be sent to him. The Inland Revenue licence is a personal tax for the keeping of the machine, and is not transferable with the car; but in the event of a licence for a new car being required, a proportionate rebate will be allowed for the portion of the year unexpired.
