COMMUNITY ARCHAEOLOGY SCHEME IN COUNTY DONEGAL

TERMS OF REFERENCE

May 2022

*An Action of the County Donegal Heritage Plan
Funded by Donegal County Council & The Heritage Council*

1. INTRODUCTION

Donegal County Council invites proposals from a suitably qualified and experienced archaeologist(s) to provide a Community Archaeologist service for 2022 (with an option to extend year on year to a maximum of two additional years). It is proposed that the implementation of the Community Archaeology Scheme in County Donegal will involve a contract for services for a part-time Community Archaeologist for up to three days per week over a six-month period (or equivalent). Funding for this service has been secured from The Heritage Council and Donegal County Council as part of the implementation of the County Donegal Heritage Plan and the Heritage Council's Community Archaeology Scheme.

1.1 Purpose of the Scheme

The Heritage Council's Community Archaeology Scheme aims to support local authorities to assist communities to become actively involved in the conservation and interpretation of their local archaeological and cultural heritage sites. There are 3,400 known archaeological monuments in County Donegal included on the Record of Monuments & Places, protected under the National Monuments Acts (1930-2014) and most of them are in private ownership. There are 17 National Monuments and 37 Historic Monuments in County Donegal. There are 50 historic graveyards in the guardianship of Donegal County Council and a further circa 120 historic graveyards and burial grounds on the Record of Monuments & Places in County Donegal. Under the Urban Archaeological Survey of County Donegal (1989), the Department of Housing, Local Government & Heritage has identified the following Historic Towns for general protection: Ballyshannon, Donegal Town, Killybegs, Lifford, Ramelton, Rathmullan and St. Johnston.

The appointment of a part-time Community Archaeologist will help to harness the strong community interest in, and support for, our archaeological heritage. There is a proactive heritage sector in County Donegal with over 250 known heritage groups or community groups with a heritage remit in County Donegal and this provides a firm foundation for protecting, conserving, promoting and enhancing our archaeological heritage. Donegal County Council is keen to build upon its favourable experience in appointing a Field Monument Advisor (December 2006 – November 2008) in partnership with The Heritage Council and also to build upon its record of archaeological heritage initiatives over the years. Participation in the Community Archaeology Scheme and the appointment of a part-time Community Archaeologist would help to address several actions in the County Donegal Heritage Plan including:

- Encourage the appointment of . . . a Field Monument Adviser [and] a County Archaeologist" (Action 5.13);
- Initiate a best practice conservation and recording scheme for historic graveyards in County Donegal (Action 2.11);
- Facilitate heritage interpretation and promotion of heritage sites and embrace new technology (Action 4.3);
- Support new research and fieldwork in relation to archaeological heritage and folklore (Action 5.16); and
- Explore the 'adoption' of heritage sites by local communities (Action 4.8).

The initiative also supports several Strategic Objectives in the Heritage Council Strategic Plan including: 3i Support the local authority Heritage Officer Network and assess how the range of local heritage services can be expanded to maximise the leadership role of local authorities; 3ii Involve local communities in caring for heritage by providing supports such as grants, training and capacity building opportunities as well as community archaeology and citizen science initiatives and 3viii Promote the educational and leisure benefits of community heritage projects.

1.2 Scope of the work

The Community Archaeologist will work to:

- Raise awareness, knowledge and understanding of our archaeological heritage among community groups and individuals in the county in partnership with the County Donegal Heritage Office and the Donegal County Museum.
- Provide specialist advice and promote heritage best practice in relation to researching and conserving archaeological monuments to assist Donegal County Council in meeting the increasing demand for archaeological heritage services across the county.
- Liaise with selected community groups and support community capacity to avail of funding opportunities for the preservation, conservation, promotion and enhancement of our archaeological heritage (with a specific focus on historic graveyards in 2022).
- Work with local communities to encourage best practice in the interpretation and promotion of archaeological heritage sites. The Culture Division has secured a commitment from our Economic Development Unit to have historic graveyards included as an eligible area of expenditure under the Minor Tourism Related Grant Scheme for the first time in 2022.
- Work with the Roads & Transportation Directorate and the Culture Division of Donegal County Council to develop appropriate management protocols for the management of archaeological heritage in the 50 historic graveyards in the guardianship of Donegal County Council¹ in consultation with local communities.
- Deliver a series of on-line presentations to guide local communities to undertake archaeological heritage research and local initiatives and to promote archaeological heritage best practice. These presentations will be developed in partnership with the County Donegal Heritage Office and the Donegal County Museum.
- Deliver an in-house archaeological heritage training session for Donegal County Council staff as several large-scale Donegal County Council projects in the area of tourism, urban and rural regeneration and economic development that impact on archaeological heritage are in development.
- Initiate a strategic approach to community archaeology in County Donegal in consultation with key stakeholders and strategic partners building on, and providing direction to, the proactive community groups that already exist.
- Support existing and prospective Adopt a Monument scheme participants in County Donegal.

3. GENERAL ISSUES

3.1 Duration

The contact for services will be for up to three days per week over a six-month period (or equivalent) to provide a Community Archaeologist Service in 2022 with an option to extend year on year to a maximum of two additional years. Donegal County Council, as the contracting authority, reserves the right at its sole discretion to extend the contract subject to satisfactory performance, budget availability, on-going business needs and Donegal County Council's legal obligations. The person appointed must be in a position to begin immediately once appointed and the Community Archaeology Scheme must be completed by Friday, November 11.

3.2 Project Management

The Culture Division of Donegal County Council comprises the County Heritage Office, County Museum, County Archives, County Library Service, County Arts and the Regional Cultural Centre. A steering committee comprised of the County Donegal Heritage Officer and Donegal County Museum Curator will guide the development of this project. Day-to-day contact will be with the Heritage Officer. The steering committee will meet regularly to review progress.

3.3 Budget

The maximum budget for this Heritage Plan action is €20,000 excluding VAT. Please quote proposed costs excluding and including VAT. Interim payments can be made and will be made based on reports submitted to the Heritage Officer with details of an itemised list of hours worked and activities undertaken. Satisfactory performance will be based on the work carried out as specified in the reports submitted.

3.4 Copyright

All documents prepared by the archaeologist on foot of this appointment and submitted to Donegal County Council will be considered the property of Donegal County Council. The person(s) appointed will be required to assign copyright of the report and any materials generated under this scheme to Donegal County Council and The Heritage Council. Copyright for any third-party illustrations or other material used should be cleared by the archaeologist.

3.5 Insurance

The archaeologist shall effect and maintain insurance necessary to cover their liabilities.

3.6 Freedom of Information

Donegal County Council operates under the Freedom of Information Act 1997 and all information held by the Council (including proposals submitted in response to this brief) may be subject to requests under the Act. Donegal County Council undertakes to use its best endeavours to hold confidential any information provided in the proposals submitted, subject to obligations under law. If a candidate considers that any of the information submitted in the proposal should not be disclosed because of its sensitivity, this should be stated with reasons for considering same.

3.7 Evaluation of Proposals & Selection of Researchers

Evaluation of proposals will be based on the ability of the candidate to deliver the skills and outputs detailed above within the specified timeframe. Interviews may be held with selected candidates prior to the final evaluation. Donegal County Council is not obliged to accept any proposal or the proposal with the lowest bid, and no person making a submission will be remunerated for any expense incurred in preparing a submission. It is envisaged that the successful archaeologist will demonstrate:

- (i) good knowledge and experience of archaeological heritage and an understanding of the Community Archaeology Scheme (30%);
- (ii) a clear methodology and management structure to achieve the aims of the scheme (40%);
- (iii) an ability to liaise with key stakeholders, engage with the public and produce accessible reports (15%); and
- (iv) quality of cost structure, person hours and competitive price (15%).

The decision of the evaluation panel will be final.

3.8 Communication

To ensure equality between applicants, Donegal County Council or their partners will not enter into any correspondence or discussions with applicants or their agents during the preparation period for submissions, save for the clarification of issues relating to the terms of reference.

3.9 Closing Date

E-mailed submissions to heritage@donegalcoco.ie will be accepted prior to the closing date. Alternatively, written submissions should be sent to:
